

BREWSTER FOR ENFORCING DRY LAW, HE SAYS IN OPENING SPEECH

Alcoholic Content That May Cause Intoxication Can Be Determined Only Through Investigation by Scientists, G. O. P. Nominee for the Senate Declares.

REED INDEFINITE ON ISSUE, HE STATES

Speaker, at Warrensburg, Assests Senator's Attacks on Hyde and Harding Are Mild to Those He Made on Wilson.

By the Associated Press.

WARRENSBURG, Mo., Sept. 30.—G. O. P. Brewster of Kansas City, Republican nominee for the United States Senate, in the opening speech here today, declared that he stood for strict enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment.

He did not, however, announce what alcoholic content he believed should be contained in beverages. Brewster, in discussing the prohibition question, referred to Senator Reed, the Democratic opponent, as "the buttermilk candidate."

"Reed is the sour buttermilk candidate," Brewster added. "The reference was made by a statement made by the Senator in his opening speech at Mexico last Saturday when he declared that ordinary buttermilk contains far more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol."

Brewster's views regarding the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead law, as given in advance copies of his speech, follow:

"The Eighteenth Amendment prohibits the manufacture, sale and transportation of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes. This amendment as part of the organic law of the nation must be upheld. Laws enacted to carry its provisions into effect must be enforced. Congress is authorized to fix the alcoholic content that shall constitute an intoxicating beverage. This Congress should do so in the name of the order and spirit of the amendment. Congress may not say that a certain alcoholic content is intoxicating when, in fact, it is not. In other words, Congress has no power to legislate upon this matter. The authority it now possesses is fixed by the Eighteenth Amendment, which strikes squarely at intoxicating beverages."

The responsibility placed upon Congress must not be evaded or quibbled. I do not believe that the law should ever be bent out of its legitimate course, even from the loftiest motives, or in the name of its enforcement. If a beverage containing in excess of one-half of one per cent of alcohol is intoxicating, then it comes under the ban of the Constitution, and its manufacture, sale and transportation should be prohibited. If on the other hand, a beverage containing a percentage in excess of one-half of one per cent is still safely under the point of intoxication, then it does not come under the inhibition of the Constitution and, in my judgment, manufacture, sale and transportation should not be prohibited. The question as to what constitutes an intoxicating beverage may unquestionably be determined by scientific investigation and experimentation. If this matter comes before me as Senator, I shall desire to have the benefit of such investigation and experimentation. The advice and counsel of scientists and chemists, men whose opinions are of value and should be respected."

"After a careful consideration of every fact, giving due regard to the opinion of men of reputation and standing, trained in their profession, and having in mind that the Eighteenth Amendment was meant to be a law, I am convinced that a certain per cent of alcoholic content is intoxicating; I shall not hesitate to so state and vote. On the other hand, I am convinced that such per cent is not intoxicating. I shall not for one moment hesitate to so state and vote. Let me say, however, that while I am committed to no per cent on the limit of legality, I do not want the vote of a single man or woman upon the theory or expectation that I will violate my oath of office or that I will try to nullify the Eighteenth Amendment."

UNCLE JOE TO HIT WESTWARD TRAIL HE TOOK 83 YEARS AGO

Digs Up Woollens and Will Re-trace Route He Traveled Over in Prairie Schooner as Child.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Uncle Joe Cannon dug into his cedar chest today for some woollen things he will wear next week when he hits the same trail westward to Illinois that he and his parents took 83 years ago in emigrating from the hills of North Carolina.

The early voyage westward was made in an old prairie schooner, out of the back of which Uncle Joe, then barely 4 years old, watched the shifting scenery and dreamed. Even now, as he approaches 87, he remembers the nights he played around the campfire, the hardships and the stars that peered down at him as he slept.

There was something that resembled a tear in the veteran's eyes as he recalled today his earliest recollections of that trying trip, but they sparkled as he talked of his coming trip over the same old pike—this time in an automobile.

"After March 4 next I will make my last journey homeward as a member of the House," said Uncle Joe. "On the trip by motor, delayed and delayed, and delayed, will be made at this time, and in every foot of the road my heart will beat with happiness as I think of the many honors that have come my way. I have decided I had better go now, for March is a long way off and I am growing old."

DEMOCRATS NOMINATE SMITH FOR NEW YORK GOVERNORSHIP

Name of W. R. Hearst Is Withdrawn and Action of Convention Is Unanimous.

By the Associated Press.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 30.—Former Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York City and Mayor George R. Lunn of Schenectady were unanimously nominated yesterday by the Democratic State Convention for the governorship and Lieutenant-governorship, respectively.

The withdrawal of the name of William R. Hearst as a candidate during the afternoon smothered out the only issue, that of the nomination of a candidate to precipitate a conflict in the convention and the state prepared by the State leaders went through without a hitch at the closing session of the convention last night.

Dr. Royal S. Copeland of New York was nominated for the United States Senate. He is a member of the cabinet of Mayor John F. Hylan of New York and led the Hearst forces at the convention.

Democrats are wondering whether Hearst, who sought the nomination, would support the ticket. In a telegram to his representatives within the hall, he said he would not go on any ticket "which would be a betrayal of genuine democracy."

"THERE'S A SCREW LOOSE IN CASE," MRS. BRENN SAYS

"I Am Becoming Suspicious of Harry," Wife of Missing Garage Man Tells Husband's Relatives.

DEPUTY LISTENS TO CONVERSATION IN JAIL

Mrs. Brenn Unable to Understand Why Husband Has Not Communicated With Her and Baby.

"There is a screw loose in this case," exclaimed Mrs. Gertrude Brenn, as she cradled her 11-month-old son in her arms and stared pathetically at her surroundings in the Clayton jail yesterday. "If Harry was implicated in that plot, and I am becoming suspicious, why has he treated his baby in this manner?"

Mrs. Brenn has been a prisoner since Wednesday night, several hours after the police homicide squad had discovered that the body burned Monday night in her husband's garage at Oakville, St. Louis County, was not his body, as had been believed, but the body of Miss Celestine Schneider, which had been stolen from its grave in Mount Hope Cemetery.

She was visited in jail yesterday by her husband's relatives. The party was permitted to have a "conferential" chat, their conversation being listened to attentively by a Deputy Sheriff concealed in an adjoining room.

The conversation was alternately in German and English, but the deputy, Al Ehl, understood both languages, and made copious notes on a writing pad. The visitors were Mrs. Brenn's mother and brother, Mrs. Florida Vaughn-Adams of 3520 Eastburn avenue, and Loyal Vaughn of Detroit, Mich., and his brother-in-law, Louis Theesfeld of Roberts, Ill. The latter speaks only German, while Mrs. Adams and Vaughn speak only English. Mrs. Brenn speaks English poorly, but she understands the language fairly well.

Shows Strain of Imprisonment.
The prisoner greeted her visitors wearily. The strain occasioned by her imprisonment was plainly revealed in her drawn features and reddened eyes.

"Isn't it all terrible?" she began, as she sank into a chair and patted her baby's cheek. "To think that this poor little thing has to be here. What do you make of it all?"

"Well, for one thing," said Theesfeld, addressing Mrs. Brenn in German, "the police have established beyond doubt that Harry was not involved in the death. What has become of him?"

"That's what I want to know," said Mrs. Brenn. "To think that I had obtained mourning clothes and had arranged to have that body cremated, believing it was his, so that I could take the ashes to Germany with me."

"You were always urging Harry to take you back to Germany," said Mrs. Adams. "You were homesick, and perhaps that preyed upon his mind. Do you think he might have burned that girl's body so that you could get insurance money and go back home?"

"Perhaps," sobbed Mrs. Brenn. "Perhaps, but if that is so, why does he not come to me now? He loved his baby so. How could he starve away, and see the baby suffer this way?"

"Wouldn't you seek husband?" "What will you do when you get out of here?" Mrs. Adams asked. "What will I do?" repeated Mrs. Brenn. "Where shall I go?" "Would you try to find Harry?" "Never!" and she stamped the floor with her foot.

"But he might have a satisfactory explanation to make," she said.

"He will have to do that," snapped Mrs. Brenn. "He will have to come to me and prove that he is either innocent of this whole thing or that he was an unwilling tool of others. He will have to give a good excuse for having treated his baby this way."

"You should not blame the authorities for holding you," said Vaughn. "They naturally suspect that you had a hand in this affair. That is because of the life insurance. The money would have gone to you."

"There is a screw loose," she said. "I know," she replied. "It is all clear to me, but why don't you find him? He could not be far away. He had very little money, and if he was robbed of that $65, as he had reported, he had nothing. Where could he have gone without money? How is he managing to live? There is a screw loose in this case."

"But supposing there were others with him in this," suggested Theesfeld.

POULIN FOUND NOT GUILTY IN PATERNITY CASE

Judge Says, However, He Believes Intimate Relations Existed Between Defendant and Mrs. Tiernan.

VERDICT COMPULSORY LEGALLY, COURT SAYS

Tiernans Plan Separation—Wife and Three Children Will Go to Michigan to Reside.

By the Associated Press.
SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 30.—Harry Poulin, haberdasher, charged by Mrs. Augusta Tiernan with being the father of her third child, was found not guilty in City Court here today.

Judge C. L. Ducomb made it plain in his comment that he found the defendant "not guilty" in the strict sense of the word. He said that he believed there had been intimate relations between Mrs. Tiernan and Poulin. The fact, however, that Prof. Tiernan had lived with his wife throughout the entire affair created the reasonable doubt that made it legally compulsory to find for the defendant.

Prosecutor Floyd Jackson and Prof. Tiernan announced after Judge Ducomb had rendered his opinion that the case would be appealed and carried to the Supreme Court of the United States if necessary. "The decision was a great surprise to me," declared Prof. Tiernan. "It swept me completely off my feet."

Mrs. Tiernan faintly as she was being led to the courtroom. She was taken to her home and is now under the care of a physician.

Tiernans May Separate.
The decision of the Tiernans is of the beginning of a permanent separation will take place this morning on Monday when Prof. Tiernan will drive his wife and three children to Bronson, Mich., where Mrs. Tiernan will make her home with her mother until she decides upon her future course. That Mrs. Tiernan is being allowed by Prof. Tiernan to take the three children with her is due, he says, to his sympathy for his wife. Later, it is understood, the children will be placed in a Catholic school.

Mrs. Tiernan is believed to have decided in the case, as is her husband, "I believe," he says, "that we had disclosed the affairs of our household as they really have been during the last year, a different credit would have been reached. We have been in a living hell," he said, "but this fact was withheld from the court and public."

"Just what I expected," Poulin said. He would make no other comment.

TEXT OF DECISION IN THE POULIN CASE

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 30.—The decision in the Poulin paternity case was as follows:

"This is the case of the State of Indiana on relation of Augusta Tiernan, plaintiff, against Harry Poulin, defendant, to establish the paternity of the third-born child of the plaintiff, Augusta Tiernan. This is a civil action and is governed by the same rules of practice as any other civil action. There being no penalty to the statute in such a case and the only redress is a money judgment against the father for the maintenance of said child and the burden is upon the State of Indiana to prove by preponderance of the evidence that the defendant herein is the father of said child."

"This is an unusual case of, its kind, due to the fact that the plaintiff is a mother of a child is a married woman and was living with her husband when the child was born, and alleged in her complaint that Harry Poulin, who is not her husband, is the father thereof. This case has been a great deal of notoriety and the testimony has been of the most sensational character and has shocked the morals of the community as well as the entire country and I regret this incident of my life, that it became my painful duty, and that I was compelled to give the time in the trial of a case of such a degrading nature."

Two Views to Consider.
There are two views by which to consider this case. One is of immorality and the other is of Harry Poulin the father of the unfortunate child. The public is looking upon the case purely from an immoral standpoint and is endeavoring to place the blame upon the mother or the defendant for the notoriety and shame that has befallen the families involved."

Texas Who Planned DEPOSIT HERE MISSING

Police Receive From His Wife Note Sent to Her, Telling of Attack and Robbery.

The police have been informed by the police of Houston, Tex., that Joshua D. Mills, 31 years old, of that city, had disappeared when on his way to St. Louis to deposit a large sum, believed to be several thousands of dollars, in a St. Louis bank.

Today the police here received a request from Mills' wife, Mrs. Maggie Mills of Houston, to send word concerning the attack on her husband. She enclosed an envelope addressed to her and postmarked St. Louis Sept. 25, which had been opened and on the back of which there appeared this typewritten notation:

"This letter taken from pocket of man as he lay unconscious, having been knocked down and robbed before he reached the bank. Two others were with him and were also robbed. Doctor thought best to send this letter and he said the man hurt would be better in a few hours. There was a blank line and under the line the word 'Officer.' There was no signature."

The police here have no record of any attack of the character upon a man named Mills.

The Houston police were told by Mrs. Mills that her husband was about to receive $16,000 as his share of an estate. She said a cousin of her husband, who shared in the estate, had accompanied him when he departed from Houston.

MAN SLEEPS IN STREET CAR, AWAKES IN CAR SHED; ARRESTED

Chased by Car Cleaners, Passenger Is Caught by Detectives; Finishes Nap at Station.

Night riding detectives, observing a man pursued by several United Railways employees east in Delmar boulevard from the DeBallerie avenue car sheds at 2:30 a. m. today, intercepted the runner, who said he did not know why he was being pursued.

The carmen said they were chasing the runner because he ran. When the detectives straightened out matters they learned the man had gone to sleep on an owl car and had been "turned off" to the sheds with cleaners entered the car to non up and they awakened the sleeper. As he rubbed his eyes and discovered his location he got up, darted off the car and started running. The detectives took the runner to the Park boulevard station to finish his nap while they investigated his identity.

BRITISH LAND FORCE AT CONSTANTINOPLE SITUATION CRITICAL

Troops to Reinforce Lines on Asiatic Side of the Bosphorus—Kemal Makes Demands.

BRITISH ASKED TO QUIT ASIATIC SIDE OF STRAITS

London Gravely Despondent Following Virtual Ultimatum to Turks to Quit Chanak Zone—French View of Situation Not So Critical as That of British.

By the Associated Press.
CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 30.—Large forces of British infantry have been landed here from the trans-Atlantic liner Glenorm Castle. These soldiers are to reinforce the lines on the Asiatic side of the Bosphorus, which the British will defend in the event the Turkish nationalist army at Ismid begins a movement toward Constantinople. The Kemalists army is understood to consist of two divisions.

British officials admit that the Chanak situation is growing more critical and that the hopes for an amicable settlement seem to be waning. Gen. Harrington, the British commander, seems to have exhausted his peaceful overtures, and many fear that military action will follow. A rupture between the opposing forces. It is thought military quarters, is likely to be precipitated at any hour unless the Turks withdraw from the neutral zone.

The Turkish troops continue to close contact with the British. They have formed a screen around the British forces behind which they are making concentrations and reorganizations. The British have established a war-time censorship. Hereafter the mention of names of regiments, their strength and destinations is prohibited.

A note from Mustafa Kemal Pasha to Gen. Harrington, couched in a hostile tenor, is considered by British military circles as almost closing the door to a pacific settlement of the straits question. "The note of Kemal demands the retirement of all the British troops from the Asiatic side of the straits, as the French and Italians have done, and says as the result of acquiescence, he will withdraw the Nationalist forces 'slightly' from the neutral zone."

Demands by Turks.
He also demands the cessation of what are termed the arbitrary measures of the British authorities in Constantinople in dealing with the Turkish population and a solemn undertaking that no Greek vessel shall be permitted to pass the Dardanelles. It concludes with protest against the destruction of Turkish war material in the straits.

Six submarines of the British Atlantic fleet have arrived and will be used to prevent the transportation of Turkish troops across the Sea of Marmara in the event of war between the British and the Turks. The British also have posted batteries in strategic positions on the heights of Chanak, westward of Samsun, and at Maltepe, on the Haidar Pass Railway, facing Prinkipo Island. These positions are on the Asiatic side of the Bosphorus, a short distance from Constantinople.

Hope in French Envoy's Efforts.
Some optimism is felt over the meeting between M. Franklin-Bouillon, the French envoy, and Mustafa Kemal Pasha at Smyrna, where there was a conference yesterday on the general situation. Later, while on the way to Eski-Shehr, Kemal received a message calling him to Ankara to discuss with the Government the Nationalist reply to the allied demands. Therefore, Gen. Harrington postponed his departure for Mudania to meet Kemal. Meanwhile, the Turkish leader has given assurance that his troops will not advance farther than the neutral zone.

The chief prevalence in British military circles that Greece may be asked to evacuate Thrace by Oct. 18. This would permit the Kemalists to enter Thrace by ports on the Sea of Marmara, avoid a violation of the straits and satisfy the Kemal demand for possession of Thrace before the proposed peace conference begins.

France Stands by Decision; View Not So Critical as Britain's.
By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Sept. 30.—France stands firmly by her decision, taken with England and Italy last Saturday, to insist upon Turkish recognition of the neutrality of the zones of the straits, and while there is no question at the moment of military force to back up this attitude, the French government will exert its fullest influence to induce the Turks to withdraw. This was the view in official circles today, following the British demand for the retirement of the Turkish Nationalists from the Chanak area.

TOPS REVEALS THAT MRS. MILLS' THROAT WAS CUT

Garrison Rebelled at M.: Three Captured and Executed.

Three Bullets Found in Head When Body Is Exhumed—Evidence Strengthens Vengeance Theory.

WIDOW OF RECTOR ENGAGES COUNSEL

Governor Writes Daughter of Slain Woman That He Has Invoked Aid of State Police in Case.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—When the body of Mrs. James Mills, who was slain by the assassin of Governor William B. E. Smith, was exhumed today, three bullets were found in her head and neck.

The evidence of attack—disclosed before because of the blundering investigation by the authorities—seemed to leave no doubt that the double murder was one of vengeance and dispelled all theory of robbery.

The conclusion of the officials that the minister and his choir were slain when their bodies were found under a crab apple tree on a farm just over the Middlesex County line from New Brunswick, N. J., was also shown as unwarranted. There was no blood in the vicinity of the bodies.

Widow Retains Counsel. Announcement was made at the home of Mrs. Hall, wealthy widow of the rector, that after consultation with counsel, she had decided to retain Timothy J. Pfeiffer, former assistant state attorney-general in the case of Lockwood Committee prosecution, as personal counsel.

The revelation of the autopsy and the reason why one was not performed before the bodies were buried were paramount developments yesterday. Dr. William H. Long, county physician of Somerset, said:

"I was never asked to perform an autopsy. I take my instructions from the coroner's office and I was asked only to make report on the condition of the bodies. I made an external examination of the wounds. I was never asked to make an autopsy at all."

Prosecutor Beekman admitted he gave no instruction to Dr. Long to perform an autopsy.

Physician's Previous Report. Dr. Long's report of his previous examination of one bullet hole in Mrs. Mills' forehead and a "tear" in her neck, in contrast to the report of Dr. E. Cronk, health officer of New Brunswick, N. J., was a "bullet hole" in the neck.

"No doctor who made an external examination only could have been absolutely certain of internal conditions. I did not perform a complete autopsy, because I did not perform any autopsy at all."

It was considered strange that, despite the cutting of Mrs. Mills' throat in the extent of severing the jugular vein and carotid artery, her clothing was not torn or bloodstained.

These disclosures, which should have been brought out when the bodies were found two weeks ago, were suggested by the autopsy of the bodies of the rector and his wife, which, in part, read:

"My Dear Miss Mills—I have read your pathetic appeal to me with profound regret and heartfelt sympathy. You in your extreme bereavement have written those few lines which I have previously to receiving your communication I had become actively engaged in endeavoring to assist in any way possible the authorities of Somerset and Middlesex counties."

This very day I have invoked the assistance of the detective force of the New Jersey State police to rush to your aid and to assist the prosecution of Somerset and Middlesex counties and their staff, Mr. H. N. Schwarzkopf, Superintendent of the Police, has been notified to lead the entire personnel of his force, necessary to this end.

From personal knowledge I can assure you that Prosecutors Asa and Joseph Beekman of Somerset and Joseph Beekman of Middlesex have been working in their efforts to bring to the perpetrators.

There is no need for you to spend a penny of your limited means in carrying forward the investigation. The shocked conscience of the New Jersey will never be satisfied until the perpetrators are brought to justice.

MYSTERIOUS SHOOTING OF MAN UNDER INQUIRY

Police Unable to Learn From Italian Where Shots That Hit Him Came From.

Police are investigating the shooting of Bernardo Nardi, 32 years old, an Italian spaghetti maker residing at 1413 Blair avenue, who was taken to Alexian Brothers Hospital at 6:30 last night by several men, after he had received treatment at a physician's office for revolver wounds in the left side and arm. His condition is serious. An operation will be performed to remove the bullet which lodged in his side.

Nardi, who, detectives say, talked reluctantly, told officers this morning that he was walking on Tenth or Eleventh street, he doesn't remember which, between Wash and Carr streets, between 4 and 5 p. m. yesterday, when suddenly several shots were fired and he was struck twice. He doesn't know whence the shots came or who fired them, he said.

Police could not learn from him who the five men were who took him after the shooting. In an automobile to the physician's office, where his removal to a hospital was advised, Nardi did not touch his enemies and had received no threatening letters, but police are investigating on the theory that his woundings may be connected with several recent shootings in the neighborhood, regarded as growing out of feud activities.

HUGO STINNES' BANK ACCOUNT ATTACHED IN PROMOTER'S SUIT

Breach of Contract Action Reveals German Financier Tried to Float Loans of Millions in U. S.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Attachment of funds carried in four New York banks to the credit of Hugo Stinnes, German industrial magnate, in connection with a $2,055,185 breach-of-contract suit filed by James A. Tillman, promoter, revealed yesterday that Stinnes, through various financial schemes, had made attempts to float loans for hundreds of millions of dollars in this country.

The attachment order, signed by Supreme Court Justice Wasservogel, was placed in effect by Deputy Sheriff Nagle of New York County. The funds, the exact amount of which was not disclosed, are held by the National City Bank, the Guaranty Trust Co., the Equitable Trust Co., and Hollenbeck & Co.

Tillman, described as a financial promoter, claimed that on May 2, 1919, he entered into an agreement with Stinnes, who was then in the United States, to secure a loan of $125,000,000 in the United States.

This amount was needed by Stinnes at the time, it was said, for the purchase of American raw materials. Instead of furnishing this collateral, the statement continued, Stinnes concocted a lot of "fanciful financial schemes as a sort of panacea for Germany's financial afflictions."

Stinnes, Tillman's statement continued, was to furnish collateral security that Tillman might undertake to secure a loan of $125,000,000 in the United States.

MAIL THEFTS, FORGERY CHARGED TO TWO BOYS

Youths Declared to Have Robbed Mail Boxes and Forged Stolen Checks.

A Soudan High School boy, 14 years old, and a Junior High School boy, 13, 10 days ago stole four books from the Cabanne Branch Public Library and, after reading them, began to rob mail boxes in West End apartment buildings, forging checks taken from letters and spending the proceeds for taxi-cabs, shoes and candy.

The boys were brought before United States District Attorney Carroll today. Carroll said he was sure that criminal intent was lacking and that the boys carried excitement and money to fulfill it. He indicated that he would withhold prosecution for the present and would require each to attend church regularly. He said he would lay down other behavior rules after consulting with the school principals.

They cashed two checks for $16 each, one for $25, obtained a $5 bill and had a check for $200 and two tickets for the Valedictory ball in their possession when arrested. Their story to the police was that on Sept. 19, when one was visiting the home of the other, they went to the Cabanne Library and, having no library cards, took four books, "The Eighth Stroke of the Clock," "The Council of Seven," "The Other Magic," and "Tarsan, the Terrible," and hid them in the cellar of one of their homes, reading from them, from time to time.

Two days later, they went to an apartment house on Delmar boulevard, east of Clara avenue, and stole several letters from mail boxes, taking them to the Cabanne Library, where they opened them, finding no money. The following day they robbed mail boxes in an apartment building near DeBaltre avenue and Delmar boulevard, and from one of the letters obtained $5, which they spent for shoes and candy.

Last Monday, they collected more letters and one of them contained a check for $35. They forged the name of the payee and cashed it at a drug store at Hodiadmont and Easton avenues. This gave them funds to include taxi-cab rides with their shoes and candy. They tipped one chauffeur $2 and another $15.50.

The following day they obtained two checks for $15 each, dividend payments on stocks made out to a man and his wife. One of the boys forged the name of the wife to one and obtained $16 on the check in a drug store at 5544 Delmar boulevard.

Talk Leads to Arrest. They took the other check to a photograph studio at Taylor avenue and Delmar boulevard, using it to make a deposit of $2 on pictures they had taken and received $14 in change. This check they signed with the name of the payee, adding "Dr." before the name.

While they were sitting for their pictures, they conversed and the studio proprietor caught mention of a high school and the names of teachers. When the photographer received the check back from the bank with the notation that it was a forgery, the police were informed of the conversation in the studio and they were able to find the boys through talks with teacher.

The $200 check in their possession at the time of their arrest was upon a Minneapolis bank and was payable to Alvin Long. It had been indorsed with the name of Alvin Long.

HER DEATH FOLLOWED THAT OF HUSBAND

Death Came "at Hands of Persons Unknown"—Another Patient Admits Striking Him.

A Coroner's verdict of homicide at the hands of persons unknown to the jury was returned today in the death of Mrs. Virginia Macdonald Roullot, 4616 Evans avenue, at the city sanitarium, 5406 Arsenal street, yesterday morning.

Roullot, who was suffering from paresis, was admitted to the institution in June, and died from septicaemia, caused by broken ribs.

Dr. George S. Johns, superintendent, heard complaints that Roullot's death was the result of violence. The homicide squad reported from paresis, had admitted striking Roullot the night of Sept. 24 because Roullot had cursed him.

Roullot's mental condition is such that no action can be taken against him and the detectives are disinclined to accept his story of how Roullot was injured.

The bones of persons suffering from paresis, said Dr. Johns, are brittle and serious injuries could result to a paralytic from a blow or fall that would not affect a normal person.

WIDOW DIES FEW HOURS AFTER COLLAPSE AT HUSBAND'S GRAVE

Death of Former St. Louis Woman Followed Accidental Killing of Army Officer.

Mrs. Annie Macdonald, 140 West Eightieth street, New York, formerly of 4340 Maryland avenue, St. Louis, has written the Post-Dispatch, telling of the tragic circumstances surrounding the death of her daughter and son-in-law recently.

The daughter, Mrs. Virginia Macdonald Roullot, 21 years old, collapsed at the grave of her husband, First Lieutenant John P. Roullot, who had been accidentally shot and killed by a brother army officer, on July 20, the letter says. They had been married May 7, and lived at Cristobal, Panama, where he was on duty at France Field. He was rated as a flyer of exceptional ability.

He had been ordered to Mitchell Field, Minn., L. I., for a course of pistol instruction. During one of the classes on the range he was shot and killed by another officer, who had just drawn a pistol. It was said that no ammunition had been issued to the officers by those in charge.

Mrs. Roullot, who had remained in Cristobal, went to Washington to attend the services of her husband. She collapsed at the grave in Arlington Cemetery and died in Walter Reed Hospital, the same night. She was buried Aug. 3 in Arlington Cemetery. She was a graduate of Central High School, and had been born and reared here.

Reward Offered in Bombing Case. A reward of $1000 for the arrest and conviction of the persons who placed the bomb which exploded on the front porch of the home of William C. The explosion blew the front door from its hinges and shattered windows in the Smith home and in nearby residences.

Coroner Bracy said he had no reason to have Schneider held, and the release was ordered after Chief Deputy Sheriff Lill and Assistant Prosecuting Attorney McElhinney had conferred. These officials will discuss today what may be done with Mrs. Brennan, in view of the fact that she is not under any charge.

Brennan, who served overseas with the 158th (St. Louis) Infantry, and was wounded in action, allowed his $10,000 war risk insurance to lapse, but last July took out a $5000 policy in a Kansas City company, and last May took out a $1000 policy in an Iowa company.

The two circuit drives in the first and third innings, respectively, both without a blemish, plus an added tally in the fifth resulting from a safe hunt, a single and other infield contributions which, however, bore no resemblance to a genuine rally, netted the Browns a grand total of 5 runs to 2 for the White Sox.

Van was there. He permitted the enemy but five safeties and pitched a remarkable game. The effect of his victory was to give the Browns new though faint hope of a flag victory.

A Fortiori Hope

The situation this morning was that both the Browns and the Yankees had two games to play. The Browns needed two victories to tie; but in order to do this the Yanks must lose their remaining game—on to the Red Sox and one to Washington.

Tobin's two decisive blows came like thunderclaps from a cloudless sky. First up in the opening inning he smote the very first ball pitched by that master of craft, Urban Faber, right on the batter. It was a lacy-looking drive. It seemed to take the speed to carry the 10-foot barrier which protects the right field bleachers. But as the old veteran, Harry Hooper, backed up against the boards and then threw up his hands in despair, the fans saw the sphere sail over the wire netting by a scant six inches. Tobin treated around for the first tally of the game.

In the third inning Tobin again was first up. Probably the last thought of Faber and the crowd, even of Tobin himself, was that Johnny would repeat. But he did—and he hit a

Despite Vangilder's Wonderful Pitching, Faber Would Have Won, but for Homers

The seventh inning tally by the Sox was the result of another Eddie Collins' effort. He started with a resounding triple and scored when Shelly beat out a grounder to Sailer that Vangilder failed properly to protect.

In every other inning of the game the Sox were trained properly. They came and departed at Vangilder's call. Only one other time did he allow a runner to get to base. And then it was not his fault, but that of Geiber, who had two good batters on an infield drive by Brunk (battering for Faber), but threw too late to make the out.

Not one base on balls did the Browns' tall right hander yield. Altogether it was pitching of world's series stripe and the only regret of the fans was that the Yanks were not his victims, instead of the White Sox.

The same sort of pitching, in recent series, would have had the Browns where the Yanks now are—almost "in."

At that, with his wonderful hurling, the old Fox Faber, hero of one world's series, would have won the game by his steady performance, but for the two home runs of Johnny Tobin.

Faber allowed eight hits, two of them homers; but only in two of the innings were two safeties made in sequence. One of them was the fifth, when a base on balls, a safe hunt (intended for a sacrifice), a felder's choice and a clean single delivered the only other run made by the Browns. With two out in the seventh Sailer and Williams singled—but it came to nothing.

Today's Flag Possibilities. Today the Sox and the Browns will hook up again. The Browns MUST win, in order to remain in the flag hunt. The Sox MUST win in order to entertain an equally remote hope of third place money. It will be a battle, therefore, with Shocker hurling against either Robertson or Blankenship—both Sox effective.

Sailer's Arm Still Sore. Sailer, who ought not to be in the game but whose short refusal to permit him to remain out of it, made one hit, a single, in four times at bat. George's average will probably shrink if he continues to play with the shoulder in the present condition. But Sailer is not the man to shrink a ball game because his average may suffer.

Odin Swing Toward Glants. The defeat of Bush and Shawkey, the two leading pitchers of the Yanks, in successive games and by the depleted Red Sox, gave a decided boost to the Glants' world's series quest.

ARGENTINE POLO TEAM SHOWS WONDERFUL FORM IN BEATING IRISHMEN

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—The great American "Big Four" polo team, which will have to play its best polo to both the Argentines in the week when they meet in next week's two special matches. That became all too evident on October 1st, when the Argentine polo team, which defeated the all-Irish quartet by 10 goals to 2, as a limbering-up exercise.

At the outset the Argentine polo team, which defeated the all-Irish quartet by 10 goals to 2, as a limbering-up exercise.

But what the Argentines showed are even more what they did not show, must be taken into serious account. There is not the shadow of a doubt but that the Argentine polo team is quite capable of taking the "Big Four" measure.

PART TWO.

GRAND JURY TURNS ITS ATTENTION TO COUNTY GAMBLING

Portions of Roulette Outfits, Supposedly Confiscated at Suburban Garden, on Exhibition Yesterday.

LENGTHY TESTIMONY GIVEN BY HOAGLAND

St. Louis Detective Chief Was in Party That Raided Establishments of Jesse Rubeling and Tony Foley.

Indications were that the St. Louis County grand jury spent most of its all-day session yesterday investigating the conduct of a gambling establishment at Suburban Garden, Wellington. In previous sessions, it had been apparent, the grand jury inquired into the conduct of the primary election of Aug. 1 in the Wellington precinct and those adjacent.

Allegations of wholesale fraud in the primary resulted in the determination of authorities to present evidence of the general county situation. It has been charged gamblers participated in the primary as officials in precincts where fraud has been alleged. Representatives of the Attorney-General raided the Suburban Garden gambling establishment, which, it is declared, has been operated by Jesse Rubeling, and the Wellington gambling house of Anthony P. (Tony) Foley, former convict, Sept. 2.

It was noticed yesterday that the wheel portions of two roulette outfits were in the grand jury room. Supposedly they were parts of the two outfits confiscated in the raid on Rubeling's place.

Hoagland Testifies

Chief of Detectives Hoagland of St. Louis, who took part in the raids, testified at considerable length yesterday. He followed Fred Tate, a special investigator for the Attorney-General, Tate, who also took part in the raids, was not in the grand jury room long, and it is supposed his testimony was postponed. It is known the raiders confiscated a card index of several hundred names, which they supposed to be a list of Rubeling's "customers." It was considered possible some of these men may be called to testify. Some of these men may be subpoenaed later. Many of the witnesses heard yesterday live in Wellington, and it is supposed, were able to tell from the viewpoint of outsiders concerning the Suburban Garden place.

Man and Wife Raids. Among the 18 witnesses of the day was a man and his wife who understood to have intimate knowledge of the attitude of the keeper of a gambling house towards those who play and lose.

Since grand jury proceedings are secret, no explanation can be had of the shifts of the inquiry from phase to phase, such as the sudden dropping of the lengthy election inquiry to investigate gambling. The grand jury will meet again at 1:15 p. m. Monday.

UNDES GREATER COAL SHIPMENTS

Federal Distributor Asks Railroads to Break All Records.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Coal carrying railroads were urged today by Federal Fuel Distributor Spens to make every effort to break all records for coal shipments during the month of October. The current output of coal and its movements, Mr. Spens pointed out in a letter to presidents of the railroads concerned are adequate for current needs of consumers, but do not permit laying up of reserves.

Spens notified the Interstate Commerce Commission that in the judgment of his office it would be unnecessary for any restriction on present systems of reconignment of coal in transportation.

OBSERVER BELIEVES MICHIGAN REPUBLICAN MAJORITY WILL BE CONSIDERABLY REDUCED

Former Gov. Farris, Democratic Candidate for Senate, Is Recognized as Vote Getter and Republican Disaffection Is Found.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.
A Special Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

(Copyright, 1922.)

By the Associated Press.
DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 30.—The Democrats have the best chance of electing a United States Senator in Michigan that they have had since the Civil War. Translated into political actualities, however, this is only another way of saying that the Republican majority of 350,000 will be extensively reduced, and that Senator Townsend, Republican, will pull through by a relatively small margin.

The campaign has hardly begun, but it is recognized that former Gov. Farris, who is running for the United States Senate on the Democratic ticket, is a fascinating speaker and vote-getter. Twice he carried this State and to do so any Democrat must win the Republican voters to his standard by tens of thousands.

His strength was not sufficient, however, two years ago to offset the Harding tide and he was defeated by 350,000, which was 50,000 more than the Democratic totals for President.

Those who believe that former Gov. Farris has a chance to win base their opinion on the fact that he has twice carried a Republican State of such size as this, and they argue that the 1920 landslide would have buried anybody. Farris makes friends on the stump and draws immense crowds. He twists his opponent constantly and promises an interesting campaign for Michigan.

Campaign Issues.

As for issues, the chief complaint against Senator Townsend is that he refused to vote to unseat his colleague, Truman H. Newberry. There is a good deal of agitation over Newberryism. It didn't kill Newberry the primaries, either. The 125,000 votes which Herbert Baker got in the Republican primaries for the United States Senate is variously described as "minority" and "significant." It is the same type of vote that helped Roosevelt sweep the State against Taft and the same radical fringe which carried the presidential primaries for Hiram Johnson. The Democratic caucus, of Farris' prospective total, and remark that Townsend really polled only one-ninth of the State vote on primary day.

Just why Farris, who was by no means a radical when he was Governor, should acquire all the Baker vote is not clear, though it is apparent he will win large blocks of progressive and liberal votes. The addition of the 125,000 wouldn't, of course, be enough to insure the election of Farris. This much is certain—Farris will poll the normal Democratic vote and will draw to his banner on persons, issues alone a large part of the Republican strength. Unless the campaign should delineate the issues and develop unexpected fireworks, the forecast of a close vote with a safe margin for Townsend, is what one is given by most persons of disinterested opinion.

MEXICAN FINANCIAL PACT TO BE PROMULGATED AS LAW

Agreement Reached Between Huerta and New York Bankers Made Effective by Obregon's Signature.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 30.—A presidential decree promulgating as the law of the land the financial agreement reached between Sinaim Minister de la Huerta and the bankers in New York is now in the hands of the Senate printer and will be published in the official Diario today. It is said in newspaper circles. The agreement already has been ratified without opposition by both houses of Congress.

With the agreement made effective by President Obregon's signature there is general belief here that an important step has been taken toward a resumption of the diplomatic relations of Mexico with the United States and the other Powers.

The favorable action by Congress has not excited much editorial comment, it having been taken for granted that the Government was strong enough in Congress to bring about such action. There is much pride expressed editorially, however, over the fact that the first interest payment already has been deposited in New York and the Excelsior tells of a movement started by a group of rich men in Northern Mexico to take up a popular subscription all over the republic for funds to be apportioned to the interest payments for next year.

Independent Republican Candidate

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Sept. 30.—The name of W. C. Lawson will go on the ballot for general election in November for the United States Senate in opposition to Senator Park M. Trammell, Democrat, Secretary of State H. Clay Crawford, announced today. Lawson is the candidate of the Independent Republican party organized in Florida several months ago for the purpose of eliminating the negro as a holder of public office.

GREEKS CARRIED AMERICAN FLAG IN FIELD AGAINST TURKS

Colors Were Used by Them "for Luck"—Soldiers Want a Republic.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—An American flag was carried beside the Greek colors in every Greek division which took the field against the Turks, according to Alonzo Wilson, national director of the Near East Relief, who has returned from a tour of Asia Minor, which included Smyrna.

"I learned this from several prominent Greeks," said Wilson. "The troops carried the American colors for luck, and they had extremely bad luck. Nevertheless, their choice of a talisman indicated the men's respect for America and its republican form of government.

"The soldiers' leaning toward a republican form of government characterizes the majority of the Greek rank and file and with it went discontent which weakened Greek morale. Poverty and the low rate of exchange contributed to the discontent. The withdrawal of 50,000 troops from around Smyrna to Thrace, where I saw many of them, gave the Turks their opportunity."

EUROPE, WRECKED BY TREATY OF VERSAILLES, FACES NEW WARS, FRANCESCO NITTI SAYS

Former Italian Premier Predicts Even More Terrible Conflicts Unless Policy of Peace and Social Renovation Is Followed.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Francesco Nitti, Premier of Italy in 1919 and 1920, and noted economist, states in his book, "The Wreck of Europe," to be issued today, that Europe is being wrecked by the treaty of Versailles, and faces new and even more terrible wars. The former Italian Premier says:

"If England had lost the war, or if the United States had been conquered I cannot imagine what they would say about a conquering Germany which had had Liverpool, New York and the principal ports and industrial centers occupied by black savages and by whites clamoring for indemnities so high there was no remote possibility of their ever being satisfied. As the final insult to the conquered in the army of occupation, backward races are represented. Thus the most cultured cities in Europe have been and are under negro violence which has been guilty of the most serious crimes.

"Victory has taken away from France her greatest prestige, her fascination as a democratic country. Now all the democratic races of the world look at France with an eye of distrust, some indeed, with more horror than those which have horrified our generation and upset edly toward Germany than a victorious Germany would have comforted herself toward France. She has on foot the largest army in the world in front of a helpless Germany. She sends colored troops to occupy most of the progressive cities of Germany.

"Germany is in a helpless and broken condition today; she will not make war; she cannot. But if tomorrow she should make war, how many peoples would come to France's aid?

"No one can foresee the future. To have conveyed great nuclei of German populations to the Slav states and especially to Poland, to have divided the Magyars without any consideration for their fine race, among them Rumanians, Czechs, Slovaks and Jugo-Slavs, to have used every kind of violence with the Bulgars, to have offended Turkey on any and every pretext; to have done this is not to have guaranteed the victory and the peace.

"Policy of Peace Needed." "Russia, sooner or later, will recognize Germany, too; will reconstruct herself after a series of sorrows and privations, and no one can say how the Germans will behave. Unless a policy of peace and social renovation be shaped and followed, our sons will witness scenes much more terrible than those which have horrified our generation and upset our minds even more than our interests. "The fatal idea that there exists in European groups of nations, one of which stands for violence and barbarism—the Germans, the Magyars, and the Bulgarians—while the other group of Anglo-Saxons and Latin represents civilization, must not continue to be repeated because not only is it an outrage on truth, but an outrage on honesty."

TARIFF PENALTY PROVISIONS

Articles Imported Must Be Branded With Name of Country.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Penalty provisions of the new tariff law requiring articles imported to be branded with the name of their country of origin are to be the core of new customs regulations to be issued shortly. It has been announced at the Treasury.

The new regulations, it was explained, will cover the assessment of a penalty of 10 per cent above the regular duty upon articles which fail to have branded, stamped or labeled upon them the country from which they are shipped. In the case of cutlery, it was said, the regulation will require the name of the maker as well as the country.

Is a Hundred Dollars a Month a Fair Price for a Husband?

A strange affair on the Pacific Coast, involving a newspaper artist, his wife and an older wealthy woman, is covered in an article in the Post-Dispatch Sunday Magazine. According to reports, the young wife agreed to accept $100 a month and give up her husband, but later changed her mind. Was it a flare-up of feminine jealousy when she saw her husband and "the other woman" display their affections in front of her?

REED AT SEDALIA ATTEMPTS TO MAKE PEACE WITH WOMEN

Senator Abandons Set Speech and Explains His Action on Woman's Suffrage Amendment.

CLUB WOMEN TAKE NO PART IN MEETINGS

Woman Leader There Declares Those Against Reed
Are Standing Firm in Their Position.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

SEDALIA, Mo., Sept. 30.—Ignoring international issues completely, and only sketchily discussing numerous national and State matters of domestic interest, Senator James A. Reed here last night made an earnest and studied effort to make his peace with Democratic women, many of whom have refused to abandon their devotion to Woodrow Wilson and the League of Nations for the sake of partisan political expediency.

Twelve to fifteen hundred persons attended the meeting, held in Liberty Park Convention Hall, men predominating. Reed felt the chill of feminine sympathy at Sedalia and at Jefferson City, where he had spoken Wednesday and Thursday. There, however, the anti-Reed women are only boodlers in the situation, uncertain yet whether they will carry their primary fight against the senator into the November election. Here the volcano became active last Saturday, however, when between 30 and 40 women workers of the Pettis County Democratic Women's Club, an auxiliary of the Women's County Committee, adopted resolutions repudiating the Excelsior Springs platform in effect, and declaring their faithfulness to the Wilson policies.

Women Would Not Participate. These women vigorously declined to have anything to do with the Reed meetings yesterday, and they composed the backbone of the women's organization here, the men, after threatening and cajoling, finally gave it up and sent to Laddonia for Mrs. Alice Moss Farris, who campaigned for Reed in the primary, and who tried her hand at conciliating in a short speech. She praised the senator, the State platform and preached support of the ticket. No other woman participated.

Reed, who at his hour of speech the night at Jefferson City, abandoned his set speech and after explaining that "somebody told me a number of ladies would like to sign a document saying that I really wanted women's support," declared that "I'd like to know how they got the impression I don't like the ladies. The trouble with me is to keep from liking too many of them too well."

"This peculiar notion of the women, carefully cultivated by a few political enemies, has its source, no doubt, in the fact that I didn't support national suffrage for women," the senator then asserted that he had supported the Democratic platform of 1916, one plank of which advocated independent action of the states toward enfranchising women, declaring that his opposition to the national brand of suffrage had been heeded in his devotion to state's rights. The ballot should have been given or withheld by the states, he believed. And until within 90 days of the passage of the national suffrage act this was the position of Woodrow Wilson, he declared.

"Whether I was right or wrong, wise or foolish, I believed I was right and stood on the platform of my party," Reed said. "And if somebody wants to punish me, and if anybody wants to punish a woman, I guess I'll just have to take my medicine for I never did know how to fight a woman. I belong to the class that always puts women on a pedestal higher than man ever can occupy. And one reason I opposed entry of women into politics was that I believed them too fine to be subjected to its effects. But when a woman really wants anything, she gets it."

Reed then painted a new picture he previously has drawn of the sweetness and gentleness of womanhood, as well as the courage and character, following with a history of the fight of mankind for freedom and the vote, which he said is not a right or privilege but a duty.

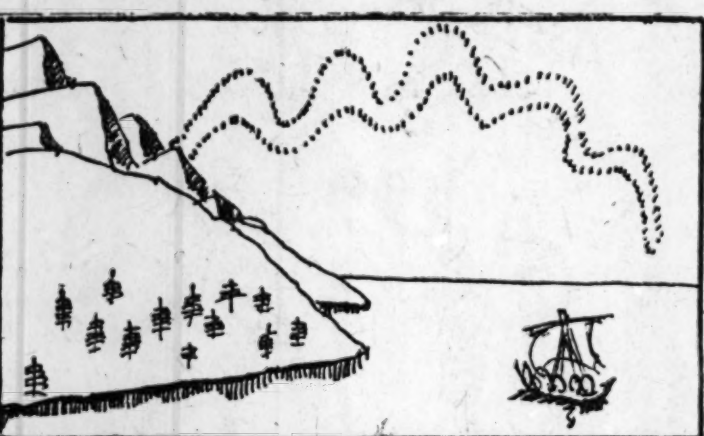

Dropping from their lofty plane he pettishly remarked: "But some women don't like my hair I can't help it, but there are lots of women who like me."

Anti-Reed Leader Firm. Mrs. Harry Reed, wife of one of the most prosperous and influential farmers of Pettis County, and long a leader among the women's organizations of this county, thought the suffragist is chairman of the Women's Democratic County Committee and of the County Democratic Club, which has revolted. She declared yesterday that the anti-Reed women are standing firm and will not vote for the senator, but will support the rest of the ticket.

"We feel somewhat tremulous at having to take the lead in this matter, in which it has seemed to us that such necessity should fall to the women," she said. "But Mr.

AMERICAN HISTORY FOR AMERICAN CHILDREN

How the Bold Norseman, Eric the Red, Pushed Westward From Iceland and Found the Vast Island He Called Greenland.

THEY FOUND GREENLAND A WONDERFUL COUNTRY AND TOLD OTHERS ABOUT IT.

By HENDRIK VAN LOON,
Author of "The Story of Mankind."

ABOUT 100 years before the first settlement of Iceland by people from Norway, the Norsemen pushed further towards the west and discovered Greenland. For a long time they had known about certain high mountains which arose from the sea of the west. But they had no definite information until early in the tenth century when Gunnbjorn, the son of Ulf Kraka, who had been blown out of his course, caught a glimpse of the new land. Even then, it took a long time before a practical use was made of this discovery. But there was one Icelandic who was a true-born pioneer. He always wanted to know what "there might be hidden around the next corner." His name was Eric and because his hair and his beard were red he was called Eric the Red.

In the year 982 he set sail from Iceland to find the mysterious land of which Gunnbjorn had brought back the first report. He found it without great difficulty and spent three whole years prospecting along the endless coast of this vast land which is a continent by itself. In the year 985 he returned to Iceland and began to make plans for the colonization of his new domain. He knew that no one would follow him if he only told of gigantic glaciers and rocky shores. He therefore told stories of wonderful pastures which covered the slopes of the mountains and he described the joys of this "Green Land" with such success that several hundred people declared themselves ready to move to this new western home.

In the year 986 Eric sailed away at the head of a fleet of 25 vessels. Nine of these perished during a storm and were never heard of again. The other 16 reached Greenland and the survivors built a number of villages which soon attracted other Icelanders until quite a colony of Norsemen had been established along the coast of this lonely country. The saga of the Greenlanders tells us that the first settlers found the remains of an older race which had inhabited Greenland long ago. They called these people "Skraeling" which probably meant "the weak men" and they can have been no other than the Eskimos whose villages still dot the coast line of Northern Greenland. And it is certain that the earlier inhabitants made no effort to defend their country against the invaders who made Greenland their home for more than four centuries.

To Be Continued Monday.

Readers who clip and preserve these articles will have a splendid collection of historical facts. Valuable for reference or for supplementing the study of history by children.

Reed does not stand for the things that we stand for. We feel that he was not nominated by Democratic votes, and we do not like his stand on prohibition. Our course is plain. The attitude of the Democratic women is in striking contrast to that of most of the Democratic men who bitterly opposed Reed in the primary, ostensibly on grounds of principle, but who now, for one reason or another, are "jumping through the Reed hoop or keeping quiet," as one cynically inclined writer has put it.

One result of this apparent submission to Reed is the fact that the almost universal manner in which other Democratic speakers in this campaign, almost as though by preconcerted agreement, have ceased referring to Reed as a "Republican" or "Republican nominee." If ex-Congressman Sam C. Major of Fayette, Democratic nominee for Congress in the Seventh District, addresses a meeting in the same hall where Reed spoke last night, he will not refer to Reed as a "Republican" or "Republican nominee," but will refer to him as a "Republican" or "Republican nominee."

That this is not the popular note with audiences became evident when, here, yesterday afternoon, former Congressman Sam C. Major of Fayette, Democratic nominee for Congress in the Seventh District, addressed a meeting in the same hall where Reed spoke last night, he will not refer to Reed as a "Republican" or "Republican nominee," but will refer to him as a "Republican" or "Republican nominee."

Whether I was right or wrong, wise or foolish, I believed I was right and stood on the platform of my party," Reed said. "And if somebody wants to punish me, and if anybody wants to punish a woman, I guess I'll just have to take my medicine for I never did know how to fight a woman. I belong to the class that always puts women on a pedestal higher than man ever can occupy. And one reason I opposed entry of women into politics was that I believed them too fine to be subjected to its effects. But when a woman really wants anything, she gets it."

Reed then painted a new picture he previously has drawn of the sweetness and gentleness of womanhood, as well as the courage and character, following with a history of the fight of mankind for freedom and the vote, which he said is not a right or privilege but a duty.

Dropping from their lofty plane he pettishly remarked: "But some women don't like my hair I can't help it, but there are lots of women who like me."

Anti-Reed Leader Firm. Mrs. Harry Reed, wife of one of the most prosperous and influential farmers of Pettis County, and long a leader among the women's organizations of this county, thought the suffragist is chairman of the Women's Democratic County Committee and of the County Democratic Club, which has revolted. She declared yesterday that the anti-Reed women are standing firm and will not vote for the senator, but will support the rest of the ticket.

"We feel somewhat tremulous at having to take the lead in this matter, in which it has seemed to us that such necessity should fall to the women," she said. "But Mr.

K S D SPEAKER TALKS ON MENTAL HYGIENE

Dr. Barnes Discusses by Radio
What U. S. Is Doing for the Mentally Ill.

American taxpayers are paying a larger sum each year for the care of the mentally ill than was paid by the Government in the 10 years' building of the Panama Canal. New York State alone paid out more in a single year for this one cause than the entire cost of that great waterway. This statement was made from Station K S D last night by Dr. Francis M. Barnes Jr., a St. Louis specialist on nervous diseases, in an address on neuro-psychiatry.

"Let us consider what nervous and mental disease means in terms of dollars and cents," said Dr. Barnes. "Disorders of the nervous system are the cause of a larger portion of illness and its resulting disability than is generally appreciated. It takes more hospital beds to care for the insane than it does for all other forms of illness combined. And our care of the insane in the hospitals, though fairly well developed, is as yet inadequate. But insanity is only one of many varieties of nervous and mental disorders. Many persons are incapacitated by defective mental development, feeble-mindedness. Then there are uncounted numbers of other individuals who, though not insane or feeble-minded, are nevertheless mentally abnormal, or negligently small proportion of these are cared for in hospitals or in otherwise. The individual so afflicted becomes a menace to the efficient working of society. Because of their mental disorder they run counter to social customs." "Citizens War Causes."

In citing the way in which this problem touches the pocket of the Nation, Dr. Barnes spoke of the mentally disabled man for whom the Government is caring as a result of the war. These numbers over 100,000, he said. The millions of dollars the Government is spending in this way all come more or less directly from the taxpayer. Another drain from the same cause is the special schools for defective and mentally deficient children, and still another is the juvenile court and reformatory, a large percentage of the cases of which are mentally defective. Instances after instance was cited by the speaker in proving his case and in suggesting the remedy he advocated—the new universal preventive plan of prevention. This can be worked out, he said, in two ways, heredity and environment. Since the present generation cannot be reached through the former he advocated strongly in the latter, immediate results. By building up healthy bodies in the children we build healthy minds, he said.

Without a healthy body a healthy mind cannot be developed, he declared. Therefore, these requisites of bodily health are necessary to mental hygiene. They are the basis of mental hygiene.

"But mental hygiene implies more than this. Its function is to make a healthy manner of thinking, feeling and acting. Proper action depends upon the thinking and feeling of which it is the result and therefore mental hygiene is the basis of a healthy intellect and emotions. The feeble-minded person acts according to his emotions, the way he feels, whereas the normal individual acts in accordance with his intellect, with reason and thought."

"When those in a community who are capable and responsible come to know the menace and danger to the social welfare that arises on the Sea-park movement of the feeble-minded, then the principal difficulty of application of mental hygiene from a practical standpoint is overcome."

Olga Schoeffler Heard. One of the best presentations of piano music broadcast by Station K S D was given by a young Alton (Ill.) artist in last night's program. The pianist was Olga Schoeffler, and her program reached out into the true classics of piano literature, and each composition was given an intelligent and artistic rendition. This was especially marked in two selections played in her first group—the "Nocturne" by Chopin, and the "Scherzo" by Liszt. The "Scherzo" was given a most beautiful rendition. JOHN P. CONNOR FREED OF CHARGE OF POSSESSING LIQUOR

Whisky Was Found in Coat in Coat-room in Rialto at Sharpshooters'

John P. Connor, proprietor of an alleged gambling establishment at Sharpshooters' Park on the Lemay Ferry road, was discharged yesterday by United States Commissioner Berry after a preliminary hearing of a charge of violating the Volstead act on June 18 last by having a quart of whisky in his possession.

The whisky presented before the Commissioner as evidence was found in a coat hanging with many others in a coatroom in the place, agents testified, and because of this fact the Commissioner ruled Connor could not be shown to have had exclusive possession of the liquor.

Charles L. Sterner, prohibition agent, was fatally shot in the raid which resulted in the charge against Connor. Sixteen men found in the gambling rooms were arrested and charged with the shooting, but all were discharged after a hearing.

CIVIC COUNCIL MEMBER TO ATTEND HEARINGS

All Discussions of Bond Issue
Ordinance Will Be Participated In.

Arrangements to have a representative of the General Council of Civic Needs at each of the hearings before Board of Aldermen committees on the civic bond issue ordinance were made yesterday by the Executive Committee in a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce. E. J. Russell, chairman of the City Plan Commission, was appointed chairman of a delegation which will go before the aldermanic Bond Committee Wednesday night in the interest of an item of $17,500,000 for street opening and widening. This item is one of the 18 in the ordinance, aggregating $78,100,000. It is proposed to hold the bond election Feb. 14.

Additional representatives will be chosen later by the Executive Committee to discuss other items when they come up for a hearing. Ben H. Charles of the law firm which drafted the bond issue ordinance.

GUY STILLMAN TO SHARE IN TRUST FUND OF $6,000,000

Banker, Who Loses in Fight to Establish Illegitimacy of Child, Undecided on Whether He Will Appeal.

FRIENDS THINK HE MAY DROP CASE

Action Already Has Cost Him $1,000,000; Question of Whether Wife Will Seek Divorce Also Unsettled.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—The two most important problems still unanswered in the Stillman case, following Mrs. Pitt Urquhart Stillman's sweeping victory over her husband, James A. Stillman, in the report of Referee Daniel J. Gleason, filed yesterday, are whether the banker will appeal to the higher courts for a reversal, after Justice Morschauser rules upon the report and whether Mrs. Stillman will, on her own behalf, seek a divorce.

The future action of Stillman remains unsettled. He conferred for several hours after the receipt of the referee's findings with Cornelius J. Sullivan and Outbridge Horsey of his counsel.

There was a strong belief by friends of Stillman that he might drop the case, in view of the fact that his action has caused him expense estimated at more than $1,000,000, led to his resignation as president of the National City Bank and, above all, caused his name to be spread through the world linked with the names of chorus girls and wine and revelry. On the other hand, he is known to be obstinate to a degree.

Mrs. Stillman and Guy were on their way here by automobile last night from Canada, where Mrs. Stillman, with her children, has been spending a few weeks at her hunting lodge, Grand Anse, Quebec. She had no means of knowing the referee's findings in her favor unless she read it in the late issues of the evening papers. The last known of her whereabouts was that she left the city at 4:40 yesterday afternoon.

Whether she will come straight to this city is unknown. In reference to the probability of her seeking a divorce, John F. Brennan of Yorkers, for years her personal counsel and advisor, and more recently chief attorney for her in the divorce action, said:

"We can't give any consideration to such a thing at the present moment. It, of course, is necessary for me to see her first. I should have to talk to her and learn her plans." Might remain in court two years.

It was pointed out, however, that if her husband appeals from a decision against him, the case might remain in the courts two years before final settlement. During this time Mrs. Stillman will continue to receive the $50,000 a year from him, approved by the court when the action was commenced. Until the last bit of dust has settled over this divorce action, Mrs. Stillman is not likely to bring a divorce action on her own account.

The findings filed by Referee Gleason yesterday have yet to be accepted by the Supreme Court. John E. Mack, who acted as guardian, appointed by the court, for Guy during the proceedings, and Brennan, acting for Mrs. Stillman, yesterday formally requested that the report of the referee come up for confirmation by Supreme Court Justice Joseph H. Morschauser in Poughkeepsie, a week from today. Sullivan, acting for Stillman, requested that the motion for confirmation of the referee's report made by Mack be brought up before Supreme Court Justice Tompkins in New York on the same date. As Justice Morschauser presided over the preliminary hearings in the case, it is expected it will be to him that the report is sent for confirmation or reversal.

The act of confirmation or reversal is a formal proceeding which follows the reports of all officers appointed by the court. It is very unusual for a court to reverse the findings of a referee.

Pleased with Referee's Report. Both Mack and Brennan said they were pleased with the referee's report. On the other hand, Stillman at the National City Bank refused to see reporters. He referred them to Sullivan, who was almost equally reticent. "We are still digesting the contents of the decision," he said. "It is impossible for us to tell at this time whether an appeal will be taken."

As soon as word of filing of the referee's findings had been flashed to this city by Col. William Rand, retained by Stillman to cross-examine witnesses at $1000 a day, and Horsey, who waited in Gleason's office in Poughkeepsie for copies of the report, Stillman and his lawyers in this city went into conference for several hours.

Rand and Horsey were silent when approached by reporters yesterday in Poughkeepsie. The only remark was that of Rand as to whether the case would be appealed. "You don't think we've been waiting around two months for nothing," he said. Stillman came in for another fling from his wife's lawyers when Mack told reporters of his pleasure at learning the referee's decision. "I am very happy," he said. "The outcome is thoroughly satisfactory."

It was the only conclusion that a fair-minded referee could reach. After it became plain that Stillman could not prove the illegitimacy of Guy he continued the action just to humiliate his wife and try to prove adultery on her part.

Over the telephone from his Yonkers home, Brennan expressed his happiness at the decision.

"The referee's report is very gratifying," was the way he put it. "It shows the people are with us."

Sullivan's Lawyers Silent. The only way in which they can be heard from is through the silence of Stillman's lawyers.

The extent of Stillman's defeat can be seen in the fact that Guy Stillman, the child he has denied and attempted to stigmatize as the unlawful son of another man, will now share in the famous Stillman trust fund of $6,000,000.

The failure of the action brought against the boy, who is now only 4 years old, precludes the possibility of further legal moves on the part of his father to deprive him of his share of the estate.

The only way in which they can be heard from is through the silence of Stillman's lawyers. The extent of Stillman's defeat can be seen in the fact that Guy Stillman, the child he has denied and attempted to stigmatize as the unlawful son of another man, will now share in the famous Stillman trust fund of $6,000,000.

In addition to the $6,000,000 trust fund, Guy Stillman, as the legitimate son of James A. Stillman, is in a position to share in the $27,000,000, which will go to the Stillman children on the death of near relatives.

Two of the principal figures in the case were distinctly in the background yesterday. Fred Beauvais, the guide, whose last action was said to have been the sale to Stillman for $15,000 of four letters written to him by Mrs. Stillman, could not be found in Montreal, where he has been a familiar figure all summer.

Mrs. Leeds, the chorus girl, with whom the referee's report says Stillman lived more than a year, remained in retirement from which she has not come since the divorce action first obtained prominence.

Of the two children of Stillman by Mrs. Leeds, as found by the referee, one was the boy Jay, who, with his mother, and the other was stillborn.

Stillman, accompanied by three men, boarded his yacht, Venona 2, off Glen Cove, L. I., late yesterday afternoon and started up the Sound. It was said he would probably spend the week-end at the National Golf Club.

The yacht, formerly known as the Modesty, had been lying off Glen Cove all summer and Stillman had usually gone aboard over the week-end, spend the days at the golf links and returned to anchor. So far as the residents have been able to observe, no women were on these trips.

RULES FILM ACTRESS IS INDENTURED APPRENTICE

Justice Says Mary Astor Must Give Up Part of Salary Under Old "Master and Man" Law.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Supreme Court Justice McCook decided yesterday that Mary Astor, 17 years old, motion picture actress, who has played several leading roles, is legally the indentured apprentice of Harry Durant, in accordance with the antiquated "master and man" law. A case of this character has not been tried since 1864, according to Durant's counsel, Philip Wittenberg.

Durant is an official of the Famous Players-Lasky corporation, according to Mary Astor's mother, who explained yesterday how the apprenticeship indenture came to be signed. Mary Astor's name of the screen is Lucille Langhanke, and she lives with her mother and father at 44 West Tenth street.

It was in his private capacity, however, that Durant took Mary Astor as an apprentice, according to Mrs. Langhanke. His corporate connection prevented him acting openly as the girl's manager, the mother says, and out of his experience as a lawyer, he produced the suggestion that she sign an apprenticeship indenture to him, whereby he was to instruct her and to provide employment for her as a motion picture actress until she began to earn more than $100 a week. Then, the indenture provided, he was to receive 25 per cent of all salary over $100.

Mrs. Langhanke explained the indenture was signed by the girl's father, who thought it only another form of managerial contract and believing Durant's connections with the Famous Players-Lasky corporation and his authority in the motion picture industry would provide great opportunities to the girl. So far as the instruction was concerned, the mother says, the girl had already been schooled in dramatic technique and pantomime before being presented to Durant.

"A matter of fact," said the mother, "the only words of instruction I believe Durant ever addressed to her at any time were in a comment when he saw her first photographic test run on the screen at the Lasky studios. Then he said: 'Lucille, you mustn't blink your eyes.'"

"And for that," she continued, "now that we are offered a contract for Lucille at $1000 a week, he feels he is entitled to 25 per cent of $900 a week for the next three years—and practically one-fourth of her salary, until she is 21, no matter how famous she becomes."

It was for this reason the application was made for cancellation of the agreement on the ground that it was simply an agency contract with a minor and subject to cancellation. Justice McCook ruled, however: "The contract under consideration is on its face an indenture of apprenticeship, reasonable in effect and in form complying with the statute."

He pointed out that the only way to obtain cancellation now is to prove that Durant was unequalled to instruct in "the profession, trade or employment" of motion picture acting, or failure to instruct. Durant, through his attorney, has denied these grounds and Justice McCook, therefore, dismissed the motion to cancel the indenture and ruled that any relief for Miss Langhanke from the apprenticeship must depend on the outcome of the trial on these issues.

While the parents admit Durant has sent them to various producing managers where he knew casts were being picked, they claim sole credit for the engagements of their daughter as leading woman in the Tri-Arts films, "Beggar Maid," "The Young Painter" and "Hope," and also as leading woman with Eugene O'Brien in "John Smith," and with Glenn Hunter in "Second Fiddle."

Durant's counsel says he has lived up to the agreement; that it was clearly made in writing and that he sees no reason why it should be canceled.

GEN. BELL SAYS U. S. WOULD BE DRAWN INTO NEW WAR

No Longer Is "Hermit Nation," He Declares; Claims Nation Did Not Profit by Experience.

By the Associated Press.

MITCHELL, S. D., Sept. 25.—America has become a world power and, as such, she cannot overlook the new troubles in Europe, declared Major-General George Bell Jr., commanding the Sixth Army Corps, with headquarters at Chicago, in an address here yesterday.

"America," said Gen. Bell, "is no longer a hermit nation. The United States is just as certain to be drawn into the vortex of a new European war as it is certain war cannot be avoided. And had the United States profited by her lessons of preparedness learned at no great a cost in 1917 and 1918, it would be just as true that this new crisis would have been avoided."

Gen. Bell spoke at ceremonies incident to the dedication of the 14th Field Artillery here.

Order for Butler County Road Work.

By the Associated Press.

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., Sept. 25.—The Butler County Court yesterday signed an appropriation for the construction of 31 miles of county roads, including project No. 204, a concrete road from Poplar Bluff, a distance of 12 miles, and the Jefferson City highway in this county. The total cost will be $540,000.

tion was made for cancellation of the agreement on the ground that it was simply an agency contract with a minor and subject to cancellation. Shame on Them.

PERHAPS there are a few mothers who do not know the virtues of Fletcher's Castoria. Perhaps there are a few who know that there are imitations on the market, and knowing this demand Fletcher's. It is to ALL motherhood, then, that we call attention to the numerous imitations and counterfeits that may be set before them.

It is to all motherhood everywhere that we ring out the warning to beware of the "Just-as-good". For over thirty years Fletcher's Castoria has been an aid in the upbuilding of our population; an aid in the saving of babies.

And yet there are those who would ask you to try something new. Try this. Try that. Even try the same remedy for the tiny, scarcely breathing, babe that you in all your robust womanhood would use for yourself. Shame on them.

Your Friend, the Physician.

The history of all medicines carries with it the story of battles against popular beliefs: fights against prejudice: even differences of opinion among scientists and men devoting their lives to research work; laboring always for the betterment of mankind. This information is at the hand of all physicians. He is with you at a moment's call be the trouble trifling or great. He is your friend, your household counselor. He is the one to whom you can always look for advice even though it might not be a case of sickness. He is not just a doctor. He is a student to his last and final call. His patients are his family and to lose one is little less than losing one of his own flesh and blood.

Believe him when he tells you—as he will—that Fletcher's Castoria has never harmed the slightest babe, and that it is a good thing to keep in the house. He knows.

HOW DRY IS A CANDIDATE?

How dry I am? How dry I am?
Nobody knows how dry I am.
I'm making speeches every day.
But positively will not say
How dry I am, how dry I am—
Nobody knows how dry I am.

How dry I am? How dry I am?
Nobody knows how dry I am.
I stall around and back and fill
But no one knows nor ever will
How dry I am, how dry I am—
Nobody knows how dry I am.

How dry I am? How dry I am?
Nobody knows how dry I am.
My sentiments I can't express
So I will simply let them guess
How dry I am, how dry I am—
Nobody knows how dry I am.

How dry I am? How dry I am?
Nobody knows how dry I am.
I may be dry, I may be wet
Or anything the votes get;
I may be both, but take an oath
Nobody knows how dry I am.

SEEING THINGS.

"Across the aisle from me sits a little row-head fellow, his head still swathed in a bandage," writes a correspondent riding on the train carrying the Yanks from St. Louis to Detroit. As nobody in St. Louis saw a bandage on Willy Witt's head during his sojourn here, we take it that a typographical transposition might have crept into the foregoing. Perhaps the writer meant to say, "a little two-headed fellow." You know it can still be bought in spite of Mr. Volstead and all his myrmidons.

SIR ISAAC WALTON IN BLACK.

CAPT. GEORGE WALKER of Savannah used to have a hand on his Georgia plantation who loved ease and fishing. When he wasn't fishing he was loafing.

One night there was a rain almost heavy enough to be called a cloudburst, and the next morning all the low places on the station were flooded two feet deep. Passing his tenant's cabin, Capt. Walker found him seated in an easy chair at the kitchen door fishing a smelt under a puddle of muddy water that had formed there.

"Henry, you old fool," said Capt. Walker, "what are you doing there?"

"Boss," said Henry, "I 'a' jes' fishin' a little."

"Well, don't you know there are no fish there?" demanded Capt. Walker.

"Yes, suh," said Henry; "I knows dat. But dis yere place is so handy."

On to Washington
By "BUGS" BAER

ABOUT time to take straw vote that broke camel's back. Sixty-seventh Congress is about to empty itself with full honors. Which means that there will be about 50 preferred and 50 common seats in Senate for sale to tallest bidder.

We used to hold elections. Now we hold auctions.

There is no limit on campaign expenses. Seems strange that otherwise sober citizen will spend million dollars on campaign just so that he can go to Washington and frank his laundry home free of war tax.

Men like Webster, Calhoun and Douglas didn't spend one nickel to be elected to Senate. Now there aren't even any dime seats left. Every chair is in hands of ticket speculators.

Deskroom in Congress brings very tough figure. Space is very valuable. When your country starts calling you at $2 per vote it's time to jump off what and charge it to campaign expenses.

Ever notice that all banks close on election day?

They should have closed two months before that.

Getting so down in Washington that they show any honest people into visitors' gallery.

Are there any public institutions left where poor man can grab seat? He has good chance of being elected to Smithsonian Institution or Carnegie Library, but he can't grab enough votes to be nominated for short term in Aquarium.
